

EULARINET

European Union-Latin American Research and Innovation Networks

Facilitating scientific cooperation between the EU and Latin America

EU-Latin American Dialogue

EULARINET is a networking project aimed at strengthening the dialogue on Science & Technology (S&T) between EU Member States, Associated States and Latin American Partner Countries (LA).

EULARINET is funded by the European Commission.

Policy Platform

EULARINET is active in establishing a platform which brings together stakeholders at policy and programme level as well as representatives of research establishments and private companies.

Scientific Cooperation

EULARINET works with partners from European and Latin American ministries and agencies and covers all scientific and technological research areas of common interest.

Its goal is to jointly define S&T cooperation policies and to identify mutual research priorities. A further objective is to support and stimulate the participation of Latin American Partner Countries in European programmes.

EULARINET also aims at improving the science-industry relationship between the EU and Latin America.

Further information: www.s2lat.eu/eularinet